

Dr John Dawson leads the newly formed Positioning Section at Geoscience Australia (GA). John is responsible for the Australian Government's National Positioning Infrastructure Capability which includes a trial of a Satellite-Based Augmentation System (SBAS). He holds a PhD in Earth Physics from the Australian National University.